

Abbildung 1: Shared flat-management user enters kitchen, that was left uncleaned and the trash bag has not been carried outside yet by the person responsible.

Abbildung 2: User thinks about who could be responsible and how to address the issue.

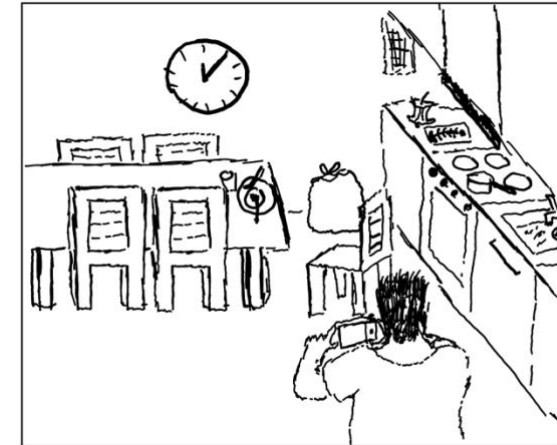

Abbildung 3: User takes a picture of the situation.

Abbildung 4: The user then sends the image to his flat members or only to the responsible flat member, of how he left the kitchen and didn't take care of the trash. Coupled with a feedback rating. The addressed members then get notified of this.

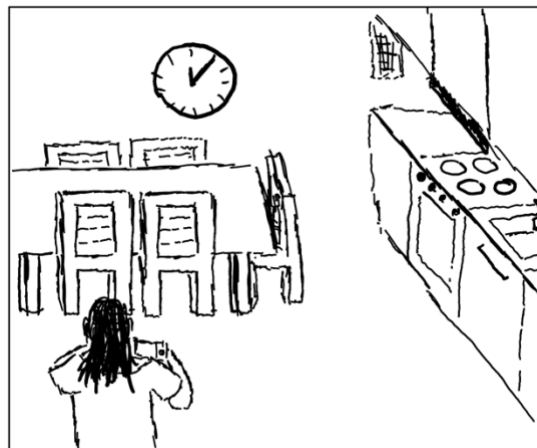

Abbildung 5: The member then cleans the kitchen and does his chore or duty, then takes a picture of it and sends it back to the sending member to check in.

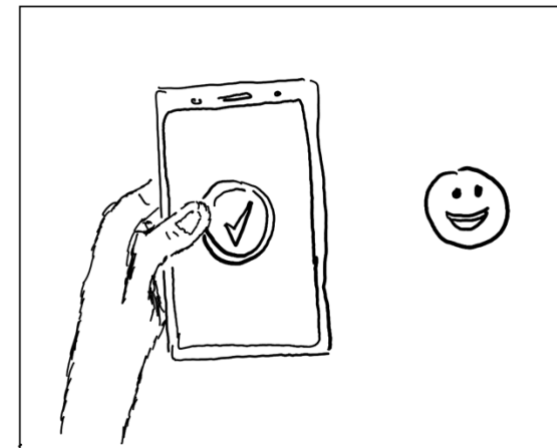

Abbildung 6: The flat mate then checks off on the task being well completed the second time.
